Your interest and support has enabled Pukeiti to house one of the world’s finest collections of rhododendrons, along with continued plant research and development of the conservation rainforest.

Work planned for the further development and upgrade of the garden by the Taranaki Regional Council (TRC), which now owns and manages the garden, is well advanced: upgrading of the pathways, tracks, plant labelling and signage, the Keiller Home Garden, and the Vireya House (ex-Covered Walk) is now largely complete; the Gatehouse upgrade has begun; and the replacement Lodge is in the initial planning stage.

The Trust Board, as a partner with the TRC, remains committed to assisting with finance for project developments within the garden and forest area. These currently include:

- Considering plans to upgrade the Members’ Lodge and accommodation, which we lease from the TRC. We will be responsible for all the furnishings, which is estimated to cost up to $100,000.
- A detailed conservation projects for species rhododendron. We have signed a contract with Massey University to assist in this work.

We welcome donations toward the various developments and projects.

All endowments and bequests are invested in the Pukeiti Trust Fund Perpetuity account. Income from this Fund contributes to projects within the garden, the conservation rainforest and our internationally recognized collection of rhododendrons – some of which are unique to Pukeiti. By growing the Trust Fund, we ensure the future for the next generation.

Membership in Perpetuity cards are now being replaced on request, instead of annually. Please contact the Secretary for assistance with this or any other questions you may have regarding your membership.

In order to keep our membership database current, we would appreciate you updating your details if these have altered in the past 12 months, particularly your email address, if you have one. From time to time, to ensure information reaches you in a timely fashion, we may email you about proposed tours and garden events.
