Māori Constituency Submission

Tēnā koe Mr Ruru,

I am writing in support of the Taranaki Regional Council's proposal to establish a Māori Consistency. Doing so is commensurate the the Council's obligations under the Local Government Act 2002 (LGA2002). Section 14 and 81 of the LGA2002 requires local government to provide opportunities for Maori to contribute to decision making. This requirement is beyond a requirement to engage and consult Māori, it requires Māori to sit around the Council table as decision makers.

The current provisions in the Local Electoral Act 2001 (LEA2001) prejudice the ability for Council's decision makers to introduce provision for a Māori ward. Local councillors are elected as representatives, not delegates of the community. As a voter I determine which persons I would like to entrust to make decisions in the best interests of the community. In no other part of the Council's decision making processes do I have a right to seek a public poll to challenge or overturn a legitimately formed decision of the Council, but this is the current situation for the establishment of a Māori ward.

The current provisions in the LEA2001 are inherently racist. It is unfortunate that out of the 24 Councils who have sought to establish a Māori ward only two have been successful. It is also reasonable to assume that a large number of other Councils have simply not ventured down this path knowing how easy it is for 5% of registered voters to challenge this decision. For Council's this is also a costly and time-consuming endeavour and distracts from the business of governing.

I am not Māori, I do however have the opportunity and privilege to work closely with Nga Iwi o Taranaki, something I have been honoured to do since living in the region since 2003. That said, I do not have the right to make decisions about Māori without them nor determine if Māori should have a specific electoral ward to guarantee a Māori voice at the decision making table.

As the Regional Council is acutely aware the matters within its governance control are incredibly important to Māori. Maintaining, protecting and enhancing the environment is the business of Māori and Pākehā and in doing so it is important that both voices contribute to the debate.

Having the privilege of sitting alongside the regional councillors in the Planning and Policy Committee I witness the Council's commitment to working with Māori, iwi and hapū to sustain and nourish our natural environment. Supporting the establishment of a Maori ward is the next step. This will allow those Māori who choose to register on the Māori Roll to vote for a candidate whom they believe can represent their world view from an authentic standpoint of coming from that place. Whilst people like myself and the other regional councillors work hard to ensure that Te Ao Māori is inherently woven and respected by the democratic process, we are not Māori so we can only ever represent an 'outsider' view, however well intentioned.

The reality remains that Māori are woefully underrepresented in local government, as are women and younger people. It is therefore incumbent on those of us who are fortunate to be in a place to influence improvements to our democratic representation to do so. Making the decision to introduce a Māori ward will show how we care about the rights of all people in our community and acknowledge that each of us can only ever bring to the table our lived experience. We therefore need rich and diverse voices around our decision making tables.

Local government democracy is so very important and we can only make good decisions when we have representatives that span the demographic landscape of Aotearoa. Having a diverse body of councillors brings richer knowledge, robust debate, broader perspective and better decision making. Introducing a Māori ward is a demonstration of our commitment to a bi-cultural relationship truly founded on partnership, protection and participation, it shows our courage and highlights our ethic of care and justice.

A decision to introduce a Māori ward is positive for the current and future Taranaki community. I thank the Council for taking leadership in this matter. I wish to speak to this submission.

Nāku noa nā,

23 February 2021

TRC April 2021 Meeting
Submission: Maori constituency

From Peter Moeahu
Iwi representative

Tena koutou katoa,

Council must establish a Maori ward for the 2022 local authority elections.

The government has changed the law so council can move swiftly to establish a Maori ward for 2022 without the threat of a binding referendum overturning its decision.

Maori have been poorly served by local authorities ever since they were established. Our perspectives went unheard, were ignored, ridiculed or considered irrelevant.

Maori have made a positive contribution to councils sub committees.

A Maori ward elected member will provide a Maori perspective at the council table.

A Maori perspective will play a major role in the Essential Freshwater and RMA reforms.

The May 21 deadline for council to make a decision is looming up fast.

The time for excuses and prevarication is over.

Establish a Maori ward for the 2022 elections.

I wish to speak to my submission

I remember a referendum a few years ago asking this very question and I believe the people voted NO!

I know that it's pointless me even giving you my opinion as it counts for nothing.... so un democratic!

Disgraceful.....

Comments:

I have given this a lot of thought as have many of the other people under the age of 21 have across the south Taranaki area where many Maori, NZ European, Asian, African and Pacific peoples signed the petition to have a vote on this decision on my local council.

As the voice of Maori must be heard we also cannot damage democracy and race relations through this action and that is the youth view of our region. The decisions by regional council should be guided directly by all local Iwi's not by one elected councillor who may not respect there views or the views of the rest of the area.

I thank you for allowing submissions when my own council did not (south Taranaki)

Regards
Rhys Hurley

| Comments: | I absolutely support Taranaki Regional Council introducing a M?ori Constituency. Because M?ori make up 15% of the population it is difficult for M?ori voices to get heard, but a critical first step in upholding the Treaty of Waitangi. I feel proud to see (very slowly!) increasing diversity of people from different backgrounds on TRC. It only adds to how engaged different communities feel and how effective TRC can be. You make the best decisions when you get to hear a good variety of perspectives. |

| Comments: | / people should be elected on merits not race or creed .. if this goes ahead i do pity the poor elected council person as i feel they will become a scapegoat for the other member of the Maori community . this is also i feel bringing in a divided community . Maori and pakeha . it may even want other peoples of the area to request their own ward , the start of a wedge |

Comments:

The current Taranaki Regional Council elections allow for anyone, regardless of race to be elected based on their merits, i.e. background and what they strengths they bring to the table in order to best represent the constituency. A separate Maori constituency is inherently racist, as it is gives special treatment to one particular race and thereby promotes separatism, not equality for all as one people in NZ, regardless of race or nationality. It would also create artificial representation, which from previous consultations on this matter in Taranaki, the vast majority of the local community does absolutely not support.

| Comments: | Yes, absolutely there should be Maori representation on council. A Maori point of view needs to be included in council decision making. As partners in the Treaty, there should be evidence of the partnership in this country's institutions, including local government. It would be a manifestation of Maori sovereignty. Do the right thing, Council. |

Comments:

Who will be electing these people ?

I would prefer that anyone serving on the Regional Council be publicly elected, as "appointed" people are sometimes not of good character, such as a criminal that was appointed to the Consents and Regulatory committee :

Bailey was eventually found guilty of five charges of unlawful possession of firearms and one charge of unlawful possession of a restricted weapon, or molotov cocktails, and sentenced to nine months' home detention. ... "The Taranaki Regional Council has no view on Emily Bailey's criminal conviction."

The people appointing the constituents can't be trusted with this task. Who in their right mind would appoint this person to the Regional Council ?

| Comments: | I hope you avoid the unfair voting situation that currently exists in NPDC elections as currently exists. If I lived in the New Plymouth ward I would get to vote for the Mayor and 10 councillors. Living in the Inglewood ward I get to vote for the Mayor and 2 councillors and have no influence over the selection of the other councillors, despite their impacting my life in their decisions at the council table. To be a balanced system the Inglewood ward voting should be :-1 vote for Mayor, two votes for ward candidates and 8 votes for the balance of the council. To deny Maori the right to influence the balance of the Regional Council in a system as exists in NPDC is likely to be quite rightly criticised as racist. I hope you take this into account. |

Comments:

New Zealand is a democratic multirace, multicultural society, and to establish a constituency based purely on race flies in the face of that democracy.

Regardless of our race colour or creed, we all pay the same rates based on whatever property we own. By selecting one race to be eligible for it's own constituency is a very dangerous road to go down.

What next, will that selected race then be eligible for specialist treatment in regards to it's contribution to the councils budget, and will it also receive specialist treatment in regards to any benefits resulting from decisions made by the council?

The system as it stands treats every ratepayer equally and gives each and every ratepayer equal opportunity to be represented on the council. That is how a democracy works.

We are all New Zealanders and we should all be treated equally.

Comments:

While the rest of the world works on stopping segregation we here in NZ are hell bent on creating it. I have grown up in mixed race neighborhoods and family members, friends and co workers throughout my life. I have always loved the fact that we all grew up together with equal opportunities..

Now we have separate sports teams, seperate schools, separate govt parties and now you want separate councils. The world talks about diversity and inclusion, lets stick with that please. I do not agree a separate Maori constituency is required. If anyone wants to stand for council and is voted in then that is fair an even.

Comments:

As one who grew up in Apartheid South Africa and strongly opposed that system there, I am vehemently opposed to any separatism of any sort. I have seen first hand how divided society becomes and as well intentioned as attempts at redress for both factual and imagined wrongs of the past may be, the clock cannot be turned back. The comparison to separate Maori seats in Parliament is even more insidious and insulting to the rest of us. These too, are in essence what defines Apartheid. (The word simply means Separatism in Afrikaans).

Sadly I have witnessed NZ race relations decline since I arrived on these fair shores some . When I first arrived in NZ I was struck by the friendships I made among Maori and the general harmony that existed in such places as woolsheds and workplaces I encountered. Today that situation has changed and there is much dissatisfaction around this issue as separatism escalates.

I have five grandchildren, one of whom is Maori. If anything, she might be my favourite and we treat them all equally. It irks me to think that she, by dint of being part Maori on her mother's side, will be entitled to certain privileges that my other four grandchildren will not. This is unacceptable to me. It is Apartheid and exactly what would have happened in the old South Africa. I have been discriminated against on the basis of race and language - I know how wrong it is.

Quite simply NZ is undemocratic and this ridiculous notion that anyone with a smattering of Maori genealogy are somehow disadvantaged at council level is flawed in the extreme. Modern Maori, or to be more accurate, Part Maori, have every opportunity to stand on their own two feet as so many of them proudly do. Maori are already more or less proportionally represented across all major political parties in parliament for example. There simply IS no case for separate representation. On the contrary, it is demeaning.

Comments:

This is APARTHEID in principle. To state next to the Yes box that "This is the Councils preferred option" is no less different than walking into a polling booth on election day to see a big advertisement for one only political party as "the preferred option". Are you deliberately trying to influence the vote?

If this nonsense is going to be put in place to suit the power and money grabbing aspirations of many competing tribes then why arent there moves afoot to establish Chinese wards and for other ethnic groupings?

I dont give a damn if someone is black white or yellow, we should all be COLOUR BLIND. Much is spoken about Maori disadvantage. Maybe they should take a damn hard look at themselves.

Like so many I have had a total gutsful of the dismantling of democracy in New Zealand and that councillors dont represent the views of the silent majority. We are headed to civil war if this nonsense continues ① We do not believe the ethnicity of a New Zealander should have any bearing on their rights or responsibilities as a N.Z. citizen. This is profiling or stereotyping, which are attitudes that should not be acceptable in N.Z. While there is good evidence that many Māori have poorer health, social and economic outcomes to non-Māori, it is inappropriate to assume that:

(a) all Māori have these problems or
(b) all non-Māori don't have these problems

We believe addressing the determinants of these problems is fairer and does not racially discriminate.

- ② Not all Māori share the Tino rangatira-tanga concept of many vocal Māori, in particular separatist views like "By Māori, for Māori". Of course many of them would therefore choose to be represented on the General Electoral Roll and be treated equally with other New Zealanders and so are not accurately represented by Māori Ward Councillors. Therefore, should Māori Wards be established the TRC should base their number on the proportion of the population on the Māori Electoral Roll, not the number who identify as Māori on Census data. Furthermore, Iwi liaison membership in other committees must include non-Māori Ward Māori representatives to provide a more balanced Māori view.
- ③ If Māori Wards are to be established purely by the views of current Councillors, given recent legislation removing the right or ability of the population to subsequently remove those wards, we would see an undemocratic move towards two types of citizenship within Taranaki. This is a serious and potentially retrograde step.

No to Maori wards -

Every New Zealander has the same rights as everyone else. Maori are able to put their name forward for nomination just like non maori. No one is anymore special than anyone else.

NO! I do not support a Maori Constituency for Taranaki we have been down this road before with Judd wanting to bring in a Maori ward and rate payers then made a clear choice of NO! but here we go again, when we vote in our Council everyone who is interested gets to vote for people who have put themselves forward as candidates, Maori included
So there is every opportunity for Maori to be selected as Councillors, we do not need an extra separate division for a
Maori ward/constituency.

One Council chosen by all the People to represent everyone is the correct way to go! we do not need separation!

| Comments: | In 1840 , The Treaty of Waitangi was signed. However, over the years our forefathers did not honour that agreement. Certainly, in more recent times, attempts have been made to rectify the considerable misdeeds to Maori with settlements and changing legislation. Nevertheless, institutional and inherent racism is still a factor amongst so many in our communities. Until such biases are mitigated and a person is elected on the strength of character, purpose of intent and proven community engagement alone, regardless of ethnicities, race or skin colour , Maori Wards need to be established. I look forward to the day when these necessities are no longer needed. Nga mihi nuiAlison Rumball |

I do not wish to present my submission personally*
I do NOT support the establishment of a Maori Ward for the TRC.

Comments.

1. I do not believe that there is any deficit in Maori representation in Government (either national or local ) as it appears from my reading that while Maori are about 15% of the population, they also have about this proportion of representation. Therefore there is no issue to be addressed here.
2. I find it extraordinary that the 3 Maori now appointed to TRC committees are to stay if a Maori constituency is established. This would in my humble and no doubt irrelevant opinion, be one of the most anti democratic provisions I have ever encountered.
3. It is evident from your literature that once a Maori constituency is approved in principle then: the Council would conduct a representation review which would decide how many constituencies there would be, their boundaries and how many councillors in each. In others words there is little to prevent the establishment of not one but several Maori Constituencies, each with multiple councillors. Absolutely objectionable and anti democratic.
  - You have indicated that you have made your decision already.

Peter Stringer

| Comments: | I strongly agree with Maori having a "seat" at the decision making table. It is essentially that Maori have an ability to express their view within the decision making process and vote on decisions to be made. I am aware that Maori do not have a unified view on all matters for decision - but that is the same for the pakeha dimension. |

Comments:

Dept of Internal Affairs statistics show that in 1989 57% of eligible voters participated in a vote for regional council representation. Subsequently the turn-out has progressively fallen, so that in 2019 only 42% cast a vote. So the "majority" voted for no representation; those elected were voted for by a minority only. How "democratic" this is is questionable.

As someone employed for more than 30 years in local government service I am fully aware that it is property owners and rate-payers who predominate in local government elections. These are people "with skin in the game". (In fact property ownership bestows the right to multiple votes: if I own a home in New Plymouth and a bach in Coromandel I can double my citizenly rights by voting in both constituencies.) The non-property owning segment of the citizenry, and Maori feature prominently in this grouping, are much less likely to vote -- "There's nothing in it for me" being the prevailing sentiment.

New Zealand's Maori community has significantly influenced management of environmental concerns by exercising a strong kaitiaki role. Witness, for example, the rahui placed on tracks in the Waitakere Ranges threatened by kauri dieback. This came into effect long before Auckland Council itself took any such protective action. The same kaitiaki concern has been displayed by Maori elsewhere in New Zealand -- rahui on areas depleted of shellfish resources being a case in point.

The creation by TRC of a "Maori constituency" would give formal acknowledgement of the Treaty Principles governing recognition of this country's indigenous population. It is to be hoped that it would also encourage participation in the electoral process which is currently an increasingly minority sport. I believe that the size of such a constituency should be determined by the size (proportion) of the Maori community, currently about 15% of the Taranaki population, I believe. I congratulate TRC on embarking on this initiative.

Comments:

Māori have been underrepresented in both government and local council for as long as they've existed. Having Māori representation not only ensures that community issues and decisions are viewed through a Māori lense, but it's also a requirement under Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

In it's current form, there is no guarantee that the Māori community will be represented, and if history is anything to go by, even having Māori in the position to voice an opinion, whether as a spokesperson for Māori or not, will not happen without the Māori constituency.

Please don't allow the majority to decide for the minority. Be a decent treaty partner and ensure Māori are not pushed aside and ignored as they have been for hundreds of years.

| Comments: | I strongly support the establishment of this constituency, as believe it will contribute to better representation of M?ori in the decision making process.Increased M?ori representation will better ensure regional government can meet it's obligations under the Treaty of Waitangi, which has been lacking. |

Hello,
I want to make a submission without making my address public. Happy to give it to Council.
How do I do this?

Your submission

Please answer the question.

There is also space for any comments you wish to make.
You can also upload any documents in support of your submission.

Do you support the establishment of a Maori constituency for Taranaki Regional Council?
(choose one) *

Yes (This is the Council's preferred option)

No

Comments:

I do not believe separatist laws will help NZ. We need laws, policies and most importantly people that will work together to understand and provide for the needs of each other.
To have a special seat for Maori people is a slight on the Maori race. It implies they have 'special needs' that don't apply to other humans and furthermore that as a race they are not capable of taking care of those needs.
Any such inference is deplorable.
Maoris are a fine race and they play an important role in Taranaki as New Zealanders. They are free to be elected into seats of power and influence by the same channels as other New Zealanders.

| Comments: | I strongly support the TRC moving to establish a M?ori constituency to give a stronger M?ori voice/lens/expertise into decision-making. We all benefit when M?auranga M?ori contributes towards addressing complex issues like the environmental issues TRC is tasked with working on. We need to keep working towards the vision of Matike Mai for wider constitutional reform of our governance structures for fully te Tiriti-based futures, but this is one step in the right direction, especially given there is support for this from the 8 local iwi. Well done TRC in taking a positive lead on this now. |
