Name and situation

1. My full name is Rod Brown. Together with my wife, Karen Brown, we own and live at 40 Airport Drive as identified below (orange outline), to the south of the AFT site:

Evidence

2. We believed that the chicken sheds were going to cease operations in 2026.
3. With that in mind, we decided to live with the side effects, and to not constantly complain to the TRC.
4. By watching wind forecasts we planned when it was safe to put washing on the clothes line without it absorbing the effluent smell from the chicken sheds.
5. Our outdoor activities, ie BBQs etc, also have to be planned with wind direction in mind.
6. Society in general is less tolerant of noise and air pollution these days, which will have a bearing on the resale of our property.

40 Airport Drive

We believed that the chicken sheds were going to cease operations in 2026. With that in mind we decided to live with the side effects and not constantly complain to the T.R.C.

By watching wind forecasts we planned when it was safe to put washing on the clothes line without it absorbing the effluent smell from the chicken sheds.

Our outdoor activities i.e. B.B.Qs etc also have to be planned with wind direction in mind.

Society in general are less tolerant of noise and air pollution these days which will have a bearing on the resale value of our property.
